DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Applicant's election with traverse of Group II (claims 11, 12, 14 and 15) and 1-[5-(1-phenylethyl)-1,3,4-thiadiazol-2-yl]-3-(3-trifluoromethylphenyl)-urea in the reply filed on February 11, 2008 is acknowledged. The traversal is on the ground(s) that the claims of Groups I, II and III have unity of invention. This is not found persuasive because the claims of Groups I, II and III have different special technical features. The compounds of Group II are not the only special technical feature in the method Groups I and III. Groups I and III contain the additional special technical features of the active steps of synthesis and the interaction of the compounds with a mechanism of disease that provides a therapeutic effect.

Claims 1-10 and 13 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a nonelected invention, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Applicant timely traversed the restriction (election) requirement in the reply filed on February 12, 2008.

The search of the prior art has been extended to include N-(5-chloro-2,4-dimethoxyphenyl)-N'-[5-(2-phenylethyl)-1,3,4-thiadiazol-2-yl]urea.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

Claims 11, 12, 14 and 15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. § 112, first paragraph, as containing subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention.

The specification discloses chemicals, such as compounds of formula IV (p. 38), which meet the written description and enablement provisions of 35 USC 112, first paragraph. However, claim(s) 11, 12, 14 and 15 are directed to encompass solvates of the compounds of formula IV, which only correspond in some undefined way to specifically instantly disclosed chemicals. None of these solvates meet the written description provision of 35 USC § 112, first paragraph, due to lacking chemical structural information for what they are and chemical structures are highly variant and encompass a myriad of possibilities. The specification provides insufficient written description to support the genus encompassed by the claim.

Vas-Cath Inc. v. Mahurkar, 19 USPQ2d 1111, makes clear that "applicant must convey with reasonable clarity to those skilled in the art that, as of the filing date sought, he or she was in possession of the invention. The invention is, for purposes of the 'written description' inquiry, whatever is now claimed." (See page 1117.) The specification does not "clearly allow persons of ordinary skill in the art to recognize that [he or she] invented what is claimed." (See Vas-Cath at page 1116.)

With the exception of the above specifically disclosed chemical structures, the skilled artisan cannot envision the detailed chemical structure of the encompassed solvates, regardless of the complexity or simplicity of the method of isolation. Adequate written description requires more than a mere statement that it is part of the invention and reference to a potential method for isolating it. The chemical structure itself is required. See Fiers v. Revel, 25 USPQ2d 1601, 1606 (CAFC 1993) and Amgen Inc. V. Chugai Pharmaceutical Co. Ltd., 18 USPQ2d 1016. In Fiddes v. Baird, 30 USPQ2d

Art Unit: 1614

1481, 1483, claims directed to mammalian FGF's were found unpatentable due to lack of written description for the broad class. The specification provided only the bovine sequence. Finally, University of California v. Eli Lilly and Co., 43 USPQ2d 1398, 1404, 1405 held that:

...To fulfill the written description requirement, a patent specification must describe an invention and do so in sufficient detail that one skilled in the art can clearly conclude that "the inventor invented the claimed invention." Lockwood v. American Airlines, Inc., 107 F.3d 1565, 1572, 41 USPQ2d 1961, 1966 (1997); In re Gosteli, 872 F.2d 1008, 1012, 10 USPQ2d 1614, 1618 (Fed. Cir. 1989) (" [T]he description must clearly allow persons of ordinary skill in the art to recognize that [the inventor] invented what is claimed."). Thus, an applicant complies with the written description requirement "by describing the invention, with all its claimed limitations, not that which makes it obvious," and by using "such descriptive means as words, structures, figures, diagrams, formulas, etc., that set forth the claimed invention." Lockwood, 107 F.3d at 1572, 41 USPQ2d at 1966.

Therefore, only the above chemically structurally defined chemicals, but not the full breadth of the claim(s) meet the written description provision of 35 USC § 112, first paragraph. The species specifically disclosed are not representative of the genus because the genus is highly variant. Applicant is reminded that Vas-Cath makes clear that the written description provision of 35 USC § 112 is severable from its enablement provision. (See page 1115.)

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 11, 14 and 15 rejected are under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Piotrowski et al (WO 03/093250, listed on PTO 1449).

Piotrowski et al teaches a composition (kit) comprising N-(5-chloro-2,4-dimethoxyphenyl)-N'-[5-(2-phenylethyl)-1,3,4-thiadiazol-2-yl]urea, a pharmaceutically acceptable excipient, and optionally a second active agent (p. 28, lines 4-25 and p. 51, example 12). The second active agent is taught to be co-administered with N-(5-chloro-2,4-dimethoxyphenyl)-N'-[5-(2-phenylethyl)-1,3,4-thiadiazol-2-yl]urea as single composition or as two separate medicaments (p. 6, lines 5-15).
